The technical evaluation score, however, will remain to be based on the evaluation of the CV of the original Key Expert. 12.8 If the Consultant fails to provide a replacement Key Expert with equal or better qualifications, or if the provided reasons for the replacement or justification are unacceptable to the Client, such Proposal will be rejected.
c. Sub-Contracting	12.9 The Consultant shall not subcontract the whole of the Services unless otherwise indicated in the Data Sheet.

Section 7. Terms of Reference

for FMOPs

Preparation/Revise of Forest Management Operational Plans (FMOPs) of 10 FMOPs at MORANG Cluster

1. Background

The Green Climate Fund (GCF) funded "Building a Resilient Churia Region in Nepal" (BRCRN) project was approved from the 24th board meeting of GCF in November 2019. The Ministry of Forests and Environment (MoFE) of the Government of Nepal (GoN) and the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) Nepal are jointly implementing the project as the executing entities. In addition to the executing agency, FAO is also the nominated Accredited Entity and therefore, responsible to the GCF for the full implementation of the project in 26 critical river systems in the southeast region of Nepal, covering parts of Koshi, Madhesh and Bagmati Provinces. The project has aimed to promote widespread adoption of climate-resilient land-use practices, confront deforestation and forest degradation challenges, better maintain the forest ecosystem, and build resilience to climate-induced hazards.

This project with the duration of seven years, started on 12 May 2020 and will be completed on 11 May 2027. In the preparatory phase, FAO provided intensive technical support to develop detailed plan of the river system, called critical ecosystem restoration plans (CERPs). On the other hand, MoFE has established and hosted a Project Management Unit (PMU) at the federal level and three provincial-level support teams, Provincial Project Management Units (PPMUs) in each province. The PPMUs are responsible to implement the project with strong stakeholder engagement, including all levels of government, Civil Society Organizations (CSOs), and community-based organizations (CBOs). The project focuses supporting capacity development of relevant national, provincial, and municipal/local institutions for project implementation and sustainability of the project interventions. In line with this objective, capacity development of the community-based organizations, primarily the community-based forest user groups in sustainable forest management is the key priority of the project.

Benefitting from the long history of successful approach of CBFM in Nepal, this project will draw upon the vast experience of this modality to further develop community-based forest management approaches in the project area. The BRCRN project, therefore, focuses on the improvement of sustainable forest management (SFM) practices in all forest land managed by forestry-related CBO beneficiaries in the Project Area and want to ensure silvicultural practices are implemented to maximize ecosystem service provision, both in terms of climate resilience and in terms of enhancement of forest carbon stocks. The key tasks would be to support all community forest user groups (CFUGs), collaborative forest user groups (CoFUGs) and leasehold forest user groups (LFUGs) to benefit them from the technical support to improve existing forest management operational plans (FMOPs) and improve SFM practices. Specific forest management objectives to be set by the user groups in their respective forest management units will be the basis of the service provider's support because those forest management objectives guide all technical measures. Silvicultural treatments are the means of implementing the defined objectives. Service provider will facilitate the groups to make those objectives and the plan climate resilient. While facilitating CBOs to develop strengthen and deliver climate resilient forest management plans in Sindhuli Division Forests of Bagmati Province, service provider follows the latest/updated legal procedures and guidelines of the government on development/revision of forest operational plan. Service providers also ensures the operational plans respond to the climate change adaptation and mitigation aspects, recognizes the optimum ecosystem and economic benefits of the forests as well as facilitates active forest management through simple and participatory silviculture. Moreover, the operational plans follow latest Community Forestry Directive of Nepal.

2. Outcome
